Over Alleged Russian Encroachments in China.

THERE MAY BE CAUSE FOR WAR.

Should the Report be True Several European Nations Must Enter and Enforce a Vigorous Ultimatum Against the Action of the Czar's Government.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The dispatch from Shanghai announcing the departure of a fleet of fifteen Russian warships from Vladivostock for Chemulpo and Fusan, Corea, and The Times dispatch from Hong Kong announcing that Russia has obtained the right to anchor her fleet at Port Arthur, and construct railroads on the Liao Tung peninsula—both of which were cabled exclusively to the Associated Press—have caused intense excitement in official circles here as well as in those having commercial relations with the far east. These most important statements are looked upon generally as being a sudden reopening in an unexpected quarter of the far east question in its widest sense.

It is admitted here that the situation presented is so grave that, should the news prove true, it would make war in which several nations will take part more than probable. It should be added that there is every reason to believe that the story from Hong Kong is authentic, and all sources of information agree that the powers interested in the far east will find themselves confronted by a condition of seriousness which cannot be over estimated.

Since this important news was circulated the greatest activity has been displayed in the government offices here, particularly at the foreign office and at the admiralty, and the coming and going of messengers were continuous throughout the business hours.

At the different clubs the "war scare" in the east is eagerly discussed, the grave situation of affairs in Venezuela having almost completely dropped out of recollection in the alarm of the moment. Nobody seems to doubt the report that, by the recently agreed upon Russo-China treaty, Russia has obtained rights, to which the most favored nation clause is not applicable, which may cause a great war. The correspondent of The Times at Hong Kong, who sent the sensational news, is described by his newspaper as being in "close relations with men who are able to penetrate beneath the surface of things," and it is therefore concluded that the news he has just sent cannot be disregarded.

The impression is general in the official world, and it is re-echoed by the press, that neither America nor Germany can allow the Pacific to become a "Franco-Russian lake," as The Globe puts it, and it is generally thought that the diplomats will be sufficiently strong to combine to resist Russian aggression.

The Pall Mall Gazette sums up the startling news from the far east with the statement that "Russia has annexed China," and, in the course of a long article on the subject, adds: "If this treaty is to stand, roll up the map of Asia." In conclusion, The Gazette urges the reoccupation of Port Hamilton by the British and the immediate strengthening of the British fleet in Chinese waters, "lest Japan lose her fleet at the first blow."

The St. James Gazette says: "Even war with Russia would be less disastrous than for her, without a blow, to get such a grip upon China. She could throttle all the other powers and choke off their commerce. Unless Russia and China give the necessary assurances, it is a case for an ultimatum, and perhaps the most serious step our diplomacy has had since the Crimean war."

An editorial in The Chronicle says: "We think that, thus menaced by Russia, Japan will refuse to evacuate Port Arthur. It is not inconceivable that if Russia attempts such a step England and Japan will form an offensive and defensive alliance. If Lord Salisbury will only be able to make up his mind what to do, and how to do it, he has a chance to gain high credit for himself."

Naturally the public mind will be in a state of great unrest until some official utterance either denies or confirms the important announcement which would leave Great Britain with her hands full of trouble, large and small, including the dispute with Brazil regarding Trinidad, the serious misunderstanding with Venezuela on the subject of boundary lines, the expedition preparing to reduce the King of Ashanti to submission, the still serious state of affairs in Armenia, the unsettled state of the Egyptian question, and, now, the most grave condition of affairs in the far east.

HENRY M. STANLEY'S VIEWS.

He Sees No Reason for War in Russia's Alleged Advantage.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Henry M. Stanley, the British member of parliament, speaking of the diplomatic situation in the east last night, said:

"England will not find it necessary to fight Russia. The English are a quiet, peace loving people. They are too commercial, and the government will not rush into war because of Russia's action.

"Because Russia has been enterprising in acquiring commercial rights I do not see that it is anything to be very bitter about, or to cause violent measures. If Russia has acquired the sole right to undertake commercial operations in China any rival may well feel embittered that the privilege was lost to such rival. Still it is not a sufficient cause for war.

"China had the right to give it to whatever power she chose. Russia simply saw her advantage. As to China's object in the alleged cession of territory, safety in the future is the only reason I can see. China, having been defeated by Japan, has been persuaded that by sacrifice she can secure the future."

Defended His Mother.

CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 26.—Fred Heard, aged 21 years, shot and probably fatally injured his father, David Heard, aged 47 years, at their home. The father and mother had quarrelled and the son defended his mother. His father then turned on him, and the son, drawing a revolver, shot the elder Heard four times. Young Heard was arrested, and is now held in jail to await the result of his father's injuries.

Increased Revenue Receipts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Supervising Special Agent J. J. Crowley has submitted to Secretary Carlisle his report of the result of the work of the division of special agents for the last fiscal year. There were recovered on account of seizures, fines, penalties and by reason of advances of values on information furnished by the special agents amounts aggregating $131,859. The receipts from customs during the past year exceeded those of the preceding fiscal year by $21,559,000, while the cost to collect the revenue was reduced.

Counterfeiter Convicted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Dr. Orlando G. Bradford, the dentist arrested with the Brockway gang of counterfeiters, was yesterday found guilty of having in his possession plates for printing bills. He is liable to a fine of $5,000, fifteen years' imprisonment, or both. His alleged accomplice, John Nixon, was acquitted. Dr Bradford refused the aid of counsel, and made a speech to the jury asserting that he had worked with the gang for the purpose of revealing their plans to the secret service officers.

THE COLT-VAN ALEN SCANDAL.

Sheriff's Officers Unable to Locate the Whilom Ambassador.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 26.—The fact that the writ of arrest for J. J. Van Alen, of Newport, was not served in that city yesterday caused a vast amount of discussion among those interested in the Colt sensation, and the interest was increased to excitement when one of Mr. Colt's attorneys said Mr. Van Alen was seen at the Knickerbocker club in New York on Thursday. Inquiry at the sheriff's office brought forth the information that the officers' efforts to find Mr. Van Alen had been without result.

Newport people are of the opinion that Mr. Van Alen had for some reason allowed the members of his household to let the public believe he was at his suburban residence, when he had not returned to Newport at all.

Rathbone Gardner, one of Mr. Colt's attorneys, refused to make any comments on the situation further than to reiterate that if Mr. Van Alen went to any other state he would be followed and the case would be pushed against him there. Mr. Gardner said the statement that Colonel Colt had either paid or would pay a certain sum of money to Mrs. Colt was untrue.

The talk of a possible counter suit by Colonel Colt was also revived, and one of his attorneys said that Colonel Colt had been urged by many of his friends to make such a move, but the lawyer said the colonel had up to the present time refused to do so, and that he was satisfied with pushing the Van Alen case.

Hastings on the Monroe Doctrine.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Governor Daniel H. Hastings, of Pennsylvania, was the principal speaker at the rally of the Republican state club of this city last night. Referring to the Monroe doctrine, he said that it was as much a part of the national existence as the Declaration of Independence. It meant that the United States would not permit a foreign power to further colonize the western hemisphere or permit the oppression of colonies already established. No country had ever attempted to violate the Monroe doctrine except Great Britain, unless in the attempt to put Maximillian on the throne of Mexico. The doctrine meant that the western hemisphere was to be the cradle of liberty, for lovers of freedom throughout the world who want to come here.

Fatal Railroad Wreck in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—A collision occurred on the Baltimore and Potomac railroad at Bowie Station, midway between Baltimore and Washington. An engine from Washington with a stock train backed in on the "Y" at Bowie to allow express train to pass and a work train on the Pope's Creek line ran into the rear of the train. F. A. Ellis, a drover of Fort Springs, W. Va., was instantly killed. The injured are: A. E. Johnson, drover, Fort Springs, W. Va., head burned and cut; W. W. McClelland, drover, Hughert, W. Va., injured in the chest; J. M. Skeggs, drover, Hughert, W. Va., slighty injured in the head. A signal man named Hearn was badly crushed, and will probably die.

No Quarrel Between President and Premier

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Attorney General Harmon says there is not an atom of truth in the story that Secretary Olney has quarrelled with the president and is about to leave the cabinet. "I am willing to be quoted," said he, "as saying that the relations between the president and the secretary of state are wholly cordial and friendly. They have not had even a difference of opinion out of which a story of a quarrel could be built, and the tale of a serious disagreement is a lie out of the whole cloth, without a show of foundation."

Ohio Miners to Arbitrate.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 26.—Hon. John Little, of Xenia, member of the state board of arbitration, has been selected to arbitrate the differences between the Ohio miners and operators on the wage question. Under the agreement Ohio is to have an advance proportionate to the advance in the Pittsburg district. The operators claim the prevailing rate in the Pittsburg district is sixty four cents a ton for mining and the miners claim it is sixty nine cents.

General Campos' Narrow Escape.

HAVANA, Oct. 25.—Captain General Campos arrived here yesterday from Cienfuegos. In his journey from Ciego de Avila to Santi Spiritus, escorted by a detachment of 100 cavalrymen only, he was attacked by a band of insurgents, whom he routed after a sharp fight. During this engagement the captain general's cloak was pierced by eight bullets and a bullet went through his saddle bag.

The World's Champion Wing Shot.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 25.—Fred Gilbert, a dark horse in the race, who hails from Spring Lake, Pa., won the Dupont cup, the wing championship of the world, and a fat purse in the pigeon shooting tournament which came to an end here yesterday afternoon. It is said that Gilbert never entered a tournament before in his life, but he shot like a veteran.

Pardoned by Governor Morton.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Oct. 26.—Mrs. Delia T. S. Parnell, who has sold at public sale her personal effects at Ironsides, left today for New York. Mrs. Parnell will remain there until she has so far regained her health as to enable her to sail for Ireland.

CHAMBERLAIN'S ADVICE.

Laughed At by the High Council of British Guiana.

HIS MAIN PROPOSAL REJECTED.

The Council Refuses to Grant an Appropriation for Arms and Ammunition to be Used Against Venezuelans, but Provides for a Barracks at Uruan.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The state department is in possession of the full text of the dispatches sent by Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies in the British cabinet, to Sir Charles Lees, governor general of British Guiana, concerning the strengthening of the frontier, the increase of police and the purchase of Maxim guns in the British Guiana territory. The department has been furnished also with the detailed action of the high council of British Guiana upon the recommendations of Minister Chamberlain.

These proceedings give the full resolutions offered by the governor general for the purchase of a Maxim gun and ammunition, uniform, arms and accoutrements. They also make the surprising disclosure that the high council of British Guiana, after its members had severely arraigned Minister Chamberlain for his precipitate action in recommending Maxim guns, defeated the resolution for their purchase by a vote of 10 to 8, thus rejecting the policy laid down by the British cabinet.

The state department was up in possession of this information on Wednesday last in an official communication from a high member of the diplomatic corps, who regarded the subject as of such importance that Secretary Olney should be in possession of the facts. When the high council opened its session two letters from the British foreign office, signed by Minister Chamberlain, were read. The government secretary also announced that there was an important telegram referring to the purchase of Maxim guns which would not be read until the council went into secret session. Mr. Chamberlain's letter referring to the arming of the frontier, and the building of a military road, is dated Sept. 7, 1895, and is in part as follows:

"In its gold British Guiana appears to possess a considerable source of wealth, from which it may be expected that an increasing revenue can be drawn, if measures are taken to open up the country and to render the gold bearing region more accessible to miners than it has hitherto been. To this end one of the first and most important steps is the construction of the proposed road for connecting the upper reaches of the Barin and Baana rivers, thence to be carried to the Cuyuni, at the mouth of the Avarabizi creek, and onward, if necessary, to the junction of the Uruan and Cuyuni rivers."

Mr. Chamberlain then requests information as to whether capitalists can be found who will take a concession for the gold field covering the same territory as the Venezuelan concession to a United States syndicate. He adds that inquiries are now being made in London as to the possibility of inducing capitalists there to take the concession from Great Britain. His letter proceeds to urge the necessity for the purchase of Maxim guns and the erection of a barracks at Uruan.

Mr. Chamberlain's propositions were ably supported by the attorney general and the government secretary, but the opposition excited many sarcastic references to the colonial secretary's letter, although the amounts involved were only $2,835 for guns, ammunition and extra police, and $4,000 for a barracks at Uruan. Mr. Duncan quoted Artemus Ward's reference to a letter, that it must have been "wrote sarcastic." The people of British Guiana, he said, wanted their gold industry developed, but they were not anxious that it should be done in a foolish way.

Mr. McKinnon admired Mr. Chamberlain's energy, but thought he was acting too hastily. Mr. Webber declared that the people of British Guiana could not of themselves defend themselves even against Venezuela, and that Mr. Chamberlain appeared to be laboring under the inspiration of a local field marshal.

Mr. Gilzean said it was perfectly impossible that Mr. Chamberlain could know the condition of affairs at Uruan. If the Maxim gun had to be used the Venezuelans would capture it in short order and the colonial force would be annihilated. Mr. Chamberlain's letter reminded him of Lord Brassey's laying down a policy for the West Indies after his lordship had taken a three months' tour around the West Indies in his yacht Sunbeam.

After further debate the motion was put by the government secretary and defeated: Yes, 8; nays, 10.

The second resolution, appropriating $4,000 for a barracks at Uruan, was adopted unanimously.

BRITISH PROPOSAL SNUBBED.

We Will Not Unite with Her to Bully Spanish America.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The United States will not consider the suggestion of Lord Salisbury for an alliance for the building of the Nicaraguan canal and the direction of South and Central American affairs. It is understood that the suggestion did not come in a way to require a formal reply. It was made in a tentative way, with the intimation that it would be put in the form of an official proposition if this country should indicate a disposition to consider it.

It is uncertain whether the suggestion was made verbally by Lord Salisbury to Mr. Bayard and by him unofficially communicated to the secretary of state. It is understood that Sir Julian Pauncefote has broached the subject in the way of a casual suggestion of what ought to be done, either to Mr. Olney or to the president himself, with whom his personal relations are quite intimate. No disposition to consider the matter was shown by the representatives of this government unless, perhaps, Mr. Bayard acquiesced to the general idea that something of the sort ought to be considered.

It was represented that the governments South and Central America are irresponsible and did not afford proper protection to foreigners and foreign interests, and that Great Britain and the United States should join in compelling proper respect to the citizens of subjects and the interests of the United States and Great Britain, one country or the other to maintain a naval force in the vicinity to protect the interests of citizens of either country.

Three Children Roasted to Death.

LIVINGSTON, Ala., Oct. 26.—Three small children of Granville Lancaster, a farmer living near here, were roasted to death yesterday. They were locked in the house by their mother while she called on a neighbor, and the house burned down.

WISCONSIN'S FOREST FIRES.

Burning Furiously and Causing Great Alarm Near Green Bay.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Oct. 26.—The marsh and forest fires in the vicinity of Seymour and New London continue to spread with alarming rapidity. They are burning furiously on both sides of the Green Bay, Winona and St. Paul tracks from Oneida for a distance of thirty miles west. Many stacks of hay and a number of barns in the neighborhood of Seymour have been burned. At New London the ties on the railroad are frequently set on fire and large forces of men are constantly employed in watching the bridges and culverts. Last night the smoke in this city was so dense as to be painful to the eyes, and many were unable to go in the open air for this reason.

BERLIN, Wis., Oct. 26.—An underground fire which has been burning in a marsh four miles north of this city broke out afresh yesterday and the flames were carried into the woods by the high wind which has prevailed. By dint of hard work on the part of farmers and help from the city the fire was put under control. If high winds spring up again the fire will cause considerable damage, as several large farms are in its path. Messages have been received here from north and west of Berlin calling for men, teams and plows to come and help fight the forest fires which are raging within two miles of the city.

Swept by a Hurricane.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 26.—A cable from Hamilton, Bermuda, says a hurricane swept over the island Thursday. So far no loss of life is reported, but great damage was done to property. Houses were unroofed and started from their foundations, verandas and outbuildings were bodily blown away, trees were uprooted and foliage damaged. All early crops were damaged and much vegetation will be ruined. Telephone and telegraph posts were razed in every direction and communication is completely demoralized. It is not known yet to what extent shipping suffered.

Suing Her Husband's Slayer.

COVINGTON, Ky., Oct. 26.—Mrs. Kate M. Sanford, widow of John L. Sanford, who was shot and killed by Senator William Goebel, in Covington, Ky., April 11 last, has brought suit against Goebel for $100,000 damages for the killing of her husband. While there is no question of the killing of Sanford by Goebel, the examining court dismissed Goebel on the ground of self defense. Since then testimony has been presented to two grand juries, but no indictment has been found.

Receiver for the Northern Pacific.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Robert M. Gallaway was yesterday appointed by Judge Lacombe as receiver for the Northern Pacific railroad. There will be soon a united, harmonious receivership conducting the affairs of the road, which are now in the hands of five receivers. It is understood that in accordance with the settlement there will be only three receivers. Mr. Burleigh, of Seattle, will no doubt continue to act as such, while Mr. Gallaway will be in charge of the New York interest. The name of the third receiver has not been intimated with certainty. He will be at St. Paul. Of course the settlement will not be complete until the United States court acts on it.

Corbett Awaits Fitzsimmons' Coming.

HOT SPRINGS, Oct. 26.—Corbett is still at Spring Lake and announces that he will remain there until Nov 1, to preclude any possibility of Fitzsimmons claiming a fluke in case he comes here Oct 30, which is not probable. Telegrams to Julian and Fitzsimmons were not answered.

Supposed to Have Been Dead Four Days.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct 26.—John Moyer aged 38, was found dead in a room of his home at Tamaqua yesterday, with a revolver lying by his body. A bullet entered his ear, which caused instant death. It is believed Moyer had been dead for four days.

Fatally Shot by His Brother.

CLEVELAND AND CUBA.

The Spanish Minister Denies a Published Report.

NO PROMISE FROM THE PRESIDENT

That He Would Veto Congressional Recognition of the Cuban Insurgents—De Lome's Report to His Government on Our Method of Dealing with Seized Arms.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Senor Depuy de Lome, the Spanish minister, says he has made no report to his government to the effect that he had assurances that President Cleveland would veto any congressional resolution granting belligerent rights to the Cuban insurgents, as published. "I have made no such report, or anything akin to it," said the minister.

He added that it must be evident to those having an intelligent understanding of the course of public affairs that no such assurances of a president's vero could be given him before legislation had been inaugurated by congress or had reached the executive branch of the government.

The minister pointed out, also, some misapprehension as to his reports to his government on the question of the policy of the United States as to restoring seized arms to those suspected of being insurgents. A cable dispatch quotes the minister of foreign affairs as saying that the United States had given assurance that seized arms would not be restored to filibuster suspects until they had sued for them, and had thus established their ownership.

There is evidently, Minister de Lome said, some misunderstanding of what the minister of foreign affairs said. The United States has held seized arms until proofs were offered of their ownership, but no suits were instituted. In the case of the arms taken at Wilmington, Del., they remained unclaimed for nearly two months. Then a ship master presented papers showing on their face that they were his. Senor de Lome was satisfied of the irregularity of the claim, yet as the papers made out a prima facie case of ownership, the United States released the arms.

Senor de Lome says he does not question the regularity of this course, although he has information convincing him that the arms ultimately got back to the filibusters. In the case of arms taken at Cedar Keys, Fla., the marshal has published a notice that the owners must establish their rights to arms by a given day, or else they will be forfeited to the United States.

These facts indicate the policy pursued by the United States in the restoration of arms, and it is this matter which Senor de Lome has made known to the Madrid authorities.

Why Mexican Bakers Struck.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct 26.—Master bakers of this city have resolved to stop the ruinous competition among themselves, and will cease making loaves at one and a half and three cents. They also resolved to insist on the former rule of keeping the journeymen bakers on the premises for the full fortnight, as it has been found in practice that journeymen being allowed to go home to sleep often present themselves for work in a semi-intoxicated condition. This resolution being communicated to the journeymen bakers a hundred immediately declared a strike.

Bradley's Story Denied.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 26.—The authorities of the Congo state declare that Captain Lothaire, who is charged with the illegal execution of the English trader, Stokes, never had any Americans under his orders, and that the story told by Thomas Bradley of his having had his American overseer bound to a tree and slashed with a sword, so that he died two days afterward, is untrue.

DeLome Expects Cuban Recognition.

Georgia Authorities Defied.

ATLANTA, Oct. 26.—A special to The Constitution says that the Zeigler brothers, who killed Sheriff Brooker, of Screven county, recently, defy arrest. They are heavily armed. The Trial of Jabez S. Balfour Begun.

Wanting in Courage.

The Tribune asked the governors of the different States to express their views regarding the Cuban question. Governor McKinley's reply is:

"I must politely decline to go on record. At this time I do not care to speak about it. In my position it were better that I say nothing now. Perhaps later I may have something to say."

It cannot be because of his "position" as governor of Ohio that he refrains from speaking. Other governors from Arkansas to Wyoming express themselves freely. The "position" to which he refers must be that of presidential candidate. But that should not keep him from saying whether his feelings are on the side of Spain or of the struggling Cubans. The question will be settled doubtless before March 4, 1897, so that Governor McKinley, if elected president, would not be seriously committed were he to make his sentiments public now. If he has any. It is possible for a presidential candidate to sit through excess of caution and timidity. The Americans like courage. They would rather hear from the Ohio governor now than at a later day, when the matter may have been disposed of. - Chicago Tribune (Rep.).

Repu Lican Paper on Republican Rule.

If ever the people of a city had a right to demand relief from inefficient, extravagance and corrupt rule, the people of Syracuse have that right now. With the memory of a legislative investigation suppressed by political influence; with the record of a boss-ruled administration written in higher taxes and heavier burdens for the people; with the knowledge that the tyrannical ring that has dictated the policy of the present city government proposes to continue its rule and defy public sentiment the people of Syracuse, regardless of party, should assert their rights and select a ticket that will faithfully represent them and assure them the relief they demand.—Syracuse Post (Rep.).

What Caused the Trouble.

In 1875, the Republican party and the law held out the promise of paying and exterminating in 1879 the greenback debt. It was not done, but, on the contrary, the law of 1878 made it unlawful to cancel, or retire, any more greenbacks, and, even after payment, the treasurer was commanded to reissue to them, pay them out, and keep them in circulation. In like manner, the Sherman law of 1890 required the redeemed Sherman greenbacks to be reissued. That "endless chain" of redemption is at the bottom of our present currency and gold trouble.—From Temporary Chairman Perry Belmont's speech at Syracuse convention.

No Hypocrisy Wanted.

"In victory or in defeat there is always one sure and lasting satisfaction in being a Democrat—and that is the consciousness of belonging to a party which is, whatever else may be said of it, the party of the plain people and the party which instinctively and naturally abhors political hypocrisy and false pretense. Democrats may make mistakes in policy, or in conduct, but that there is rough honesty about them which makes them shrink from political professions that are not genuine, but are made only to deceive voters until after election day.—From ex-Gov. Flower's Syracuse convention speech.

Not an Easy Task.

There are ten thousand more men at work in the Birmingham district of Alabama to-day than there was at this time last year, and the calamity howler will find it a serious matter to convince these men that times are worse or that this prosperity is fictitious. To them it is a joyful reality, hard work for hard money and plenty of both. The furnaces and mines are running just as briskly over the country as they are in Alabama, and the only despair and depression apparent is that which exists among the croakers who croak for political purposes only.—Philadelphia Times.

From Bad to Worse.

If this infernal Wilson tariff doesn't stop its blasting operations there is no telling where the country will stop. The anti-McKinley frenzy of building cotton mills at the south still continues. It is a Wilson tariff conspiracy. The Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, reports the aggregate investment in cotton mills at the south so far this year at $13,000,000. The addition to the spindles in cotton manufacturing so far this year has been 800,000.—Pittsburg Post.

Platt Organs Rebuked.

Every independent, progressive Republican paper favors the good government movement. This is the rule everywhere. When a Republican paper sneers at, reviles, and opposes the "Goo-goos" and the "Boo-hoos" it is almost invariable the case that the said paper is debauched with public pap, mortgaged to some party boss, or silenced with party patronage bestowed or promised.—Buffalo Commercial (Rep.).

Majorities Must Rule.

The essential quality of government by party is, that the minority shall be obedient and loyal to the majority, that properly constituted national conventions shall rule in all national affairs; State conventions shall by a majority rule in State affairs, and local conventions in local affairs.—From Temporary Chairman Perry Belmont's speech at Syracuse convention.

Democrat Confident.

"I am confident that the Democratic party is going to carry a majority of the senate and assembly districts, and elect its State ticket. That opinion I have formed by reading the newspapers and seeing politicians from all over the State whom I have a chance to meet here in Albany."—Chas. R. Dewitt.

Independent Republicans on Guard.

Before voting for State senator the voters around here will want assurances that the candidates if elected will not in any conceivable emergency vote to make Tom Platt a United States senator.—Buffalo Commercial (Rep.).

Very Encouraging.

It is very encouraging to hear that there is enough Republican disaffection in Wayne county to embarrass considerably Barnes' chances for election as State Senator.—Buffalo Commercial (Rep.).

Republican Enthusiasm for Judge Metcalf.

There is no disguising the fact that the convention to nominate Judge Metcalf for senator against John Raines was the largest attended by the masses of any senate convention ever held in Wayne county. The attendance was of the better class of people, regardless of party affiliations, people who felt and still feel that the nomination of John Raines by the Republican party was the worst piece of business that could possibly be done under existing circumstances. Many Republicans came up, shook Judge Metcalf's hand and informed him that they wished him success, and would help bring about his election by their suffrages.

Republican leaders see the point, now that it is too late, and wish they had made different plans. They are tempted somewhat to remember the words of the famous Phineas T. Barnum, that "you can fool all the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."—Lyons Dispatch to Buffalo Express (Rep.).

Tax Rates for 10 Years Past.

The tax rate for each of the seven Republican legislatures was as follows:

1886	Republican Legislature	2.95
1887	Republican Legislature	2.70
1888	Republican Legislature	2.62
1889	Republican Legislature	3.52
1890	Republican Legislature	2.34
1894	Republican Legislature	2.18
1895	Republican Legislature	3.24

Average tax rate for seven Republican legislatures, 2.79.

The tax rate for each of the three Democratic legislatures was as follows:

1891	Democratic Legislature	1.37
1892	Democratic Legislature	1.98
1893	Democratic Legislature	2.53

Average tax rate for three Democratic legislatures, 1.97.

The Infamy Legislature.

It was strong in promises for municipal home rule, and when in power recklessly violated the principles at every opportunity. The home rule provision in the new constitution was continually set at naught and bill after bill was repassed after being vetoed by the mayor of the city to which it applied. Local legislation was enacted regardless of principle or wisdom, but almost solely for grabbing political patronage. Devotion to civil service reform was professed and the law was openly violated or quickly evaded. Ballot reform was pledged, but opportunity for bribing was made easier.—Ex-Gov. Flower at Syracuse convention.

What Republican Victory Would Mean.

"A Republican victory at this election would mean that parties, if skillful in political tactics, may play fast and loose with public questions, may at will ignore party pledges, may pervert the powers of office to personal profit, may misappropriate the people's money, may defy public sentiment and offend political decency—and yet may occupy public offices and direct public affairs. Such a result can never happen if the political situation is brought clearly home to the attention of every voter.—Ex-Gov. Flower at Syracuse convention.

Shake Off Platt Rule.

We cannot have good police, or justice, or clean streets, or decency in office, without paying tribute to a man like Platt, who squats on our line of advance and "holds us up," every time we attempt to move forward. And yet we shall never be permanently delivered until we take our courage in both hands, and say boldly we want all our money for war and have not a cent to spare for tribute.—New York Evening Post (Ind. Rep.).

No More Platt Rule Wanted.

No expert in the political weather today will question the soundness of the proposition, that if all the New York voters who think the same things concerning and utterly condemn the doings of the last Platt legislature at Albany, will vote the same ticket next November, the next senate and assembly will be Democratic.—From Temporary Chairman Perry Belmont's speech at Syracuse convention.

Entirely Satisfied.

Senator Allison thinks it is hardly possible to make any changes in the tariff with President Cleveland in the White House and the senate without any party in the majority. This is a very true statement, and we think it would also be very dangerous for the Republicans to make any changes in the tariff if they had the president and both houses of congress. The people generally are well satisfied with things as they are.—Boston Globe.

A Boom in Sight Already

A score of the leading merchants of New York city who have been interviewed on the subject of the coming fall trade give a decidedly hopeful view of the business situation. The report of continued improvement is unanimous, and the best season since 1890 is looked for. Some of the dealers, like those in iron and steel, report a boom already in sight.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat (Rep.).

Fanaticism Shown Up.

Profanity on the streets and in public places is a crime, yet there has not been a prosecution therefor for seventy years.

If some of these modern fanatics had lived in the days of Andrew Jackson, they would undoubtedly have prosecuted "Old Hickory" for profanity, in declaring, "By the Eternal—the Union, it must and shall be preserved.—Senator Hill on Personal Liberty.

It Looks That Way.

It looks as if the Republican congress would not have to devote much of its valuable time to the anticipated measures for the relief of the treasury on account of an insufficient revenue.—Buffalo Courier.

Not All Dead Yet.

A few Republicans attribute the return of prosperity to the Republican congress that hasn't met yet. No wonder the lunatic asylums are crowded.—Anderson Democrat.

Smash the G. O. P. Machine

The independent Democrats set an example last year, and the year before, that independent Republicans in Erie county ought to follow.—Buffalo Commercial (Rep.).

And Under a Democratic Tariff!

The cash balance in the treasury is now larger than it has been at any time since July, 1891.—Buffalo Courier.

HERE'S A WHOLE FAMILY.

Husband, Wife and Children Made Well by Paine's Celery Compound.

The pre-eminence of Paine's celery compound over all other remedies could not be better illustrated than in the case of the Turney family of St. Anthony, Iowa.

Mrs. Turney has recovered her health by the use of Paine's celery compound.

She had suffered from a variety of ills, all due to a nervous system improperly nourished.

As frequently happens the entire family, overcome by anxiety and care, began to feel "run down" and to suffer with the hardest disease in the world to diagnosis—the trouble they have when they say: "Doctor I don't feel well."

The advice of their physician to use Paine's celery compound, the one known remedy that restores lost nervous energy, creates an appetite, purifies the blood and builds up the strength of the entire system, was followed. Mrs. Turney, in a letter to Wells & Richardson Co., who prepare the remedy, soon wrote as follows:

"My husband and three children were as greatly benefited by the use of Paine's celery compound as I was after an unusually hard siege of the grip, with variations of the disease. We regard the compound as a most remarkable remedy."

As the winter comes on many people will begin to suffer from debility, and lack of rallying powers after a slight chill or cold.

Their real trouble is a run-down condition of the nerves and blood, and Paine's celery compound, as in the case of Mrs. Turney and her family, will make them well again.

Rheumatism and neuralgia too, grow more dangerous and more painful with cold weather.

This increased pain points to increased activity of these disorders.

There is a positive danger in allowing the system to meet the perils of winter handicapped by rheumatism and neuralgia, or any disease that comes from poor blood and bad nerves.

There is the same certainity of getting rid of these two diseases that there is of a complete recovery from sleeplessness, nervous weakness, hysteria, or any other result of impoverished nerves and blood. Physicians to-day get rid of rheumatism and neuralgia as they do sleeplessness, melancholia and nervous dyspepsia by building up the system and supporting its delicate nerve parts with Paine's celery compound.

Paine's celery compound restores vitality to tired nerves; it feeds every tissue of the body when unusual waste has reduced the weight and strength of the body, as is frequently the case at the close of the heated season. It gives new appetite, and keeps every part of the body, nerves and blood so well nourished that the nervous, exhausted, tired, "run down" feeling from worry and hard work soon disappears. Try it.

G.A. Dykeman Druggist, Catskill, N.Y. says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best Cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at McMonagle and Rogers' Drug store. Regular size 50c, and $1.00.

THE ELLINWOOD PLAYERS.

Their Very Successful Engagement at Port Jervis—At the Casino Next Week.

The clipping printed below from the Port Jervis Union of last evening, where the Ellinwood Players are this week. On Monday next the company will appear at the Casino under Mr. George Lea's management, when we hope for Mr. Lea's sake the same results will be attained.

In point of attendance the "Kentucky Home" at the Opera House, last night, was a success. The house was crowded to the doors. Rarely does a repertoire company play to larger houses. Ellinwood's success demonstrates the fact that popular prices are what the people want. The melodrama of "Two Orphans" will be played, this evening, and the full company will be in the cast. Miss Rosina Loathero, the soprano, is a popular success here as is also Baby Blossom, a clever child. The furniture will be given away, tonight. A barrel of flour was given, last evening.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

J. Sloat Fassett spoke in New York, last night, but he kept his coat on, which shows that he has learned something since he ran for governor.

Here are some more figures showing what the 3 24 tax rate, imposed by the reckless extravagance of the last Republican legislature, means for some well known Middletown taxpayers:

	State Tax 1894	State Tax 95	Increase
A W Burke	20 05	27 72	7 67
J D Rockafellow	32 69	45 20	12 51
F M Pronk	20 56	28 42	7 66
L Stern	22 73	31 43	8 7.
J. Armstrong.	31 54	43 61	12 07

The official time of the record breaking run made on the Lake Shore road from Chicago to Buffalo, Thursday, shows that exclusive of stops the actual average of speed was 65.07 miles an hour, the 510 miles having been made in seven hours, fifty minutes and twenty seconds. The last eighty-six miles, from Erie to Buffalo Creek, were covered at the rate of 72.6 miles an hour.

Registration in the Republican districts in New York city is so light as to cause the managers of the fusion campaign no little alarm. The Committee of Fifty, which had announced its intention of spending its own money, is so panic stricken that it sought to overcome Republican apathy by "bracing up" the Republican machine in order that the workers might drag reluctant citizens to the registry booths, but the registration figures indicate that the workers took the money but did no work.

LOCAL MANAGERS OF NO USE

Isaac W. Pickford, of Brooklyn, who was appointed a member of the Board of Managers of the Long Island State Hospital, when it became a State institution, a short time since, has sent the following document to Gov. Morton:

The Hon. Levi P. Morton, Governor of State of New York, Albany, N. Y.

DEAR SIR:—A few weeks ago you honored me with an appointment as one of the Board of Managers of the Long Island State Hospital. Since that time I have diligently endeavored to ascertain what are the powers and duties attaching to the office.

I find that recent ingenious legislation has vested all powers and duties in the State Lunacy Commission and the Superintendents of the several State asylums. The local Board of Managers is thus, and necessarily, supernumerary and superfluous. It has been deprived of all substantial powers. It has no duties legally imposed upon it, and it is difficult to discern, under existing laws, any good reason for its continuance. On the contrary, there appears to be good reason for its dissolution, since it serves as a convenient screen for the lapses and derelictions of those upon whom powers and duties are expressly imposed by law. Under date of Oct. 19 h influential newspapers in New York and Brooklyn printed severe strictures upon the Long Island Board, copies of which I respectfully submit.

Unwilling as I am to be held up to public reprobation for not exercising powers I do not possess, or for the non-performance of duties which the law of the State has in plain language refused to devolve upon me, I respectfully tender my resignation as a member of the Board of Managers of the Long Island State Hospital, at the same time thanking you sincerely for the honor you intended to confer by the appointment. Very respectfully yours.

ISAAC W. PICKFORD.

SPOILS OF THE CHASE.

Two Deer Killed by Middletown Hunters on Exhibition.

Messrs. Jacob Gunther, Cuno Muebach, Andrew T. Bartholf, John Bull and Frank Mills returned from a deer hunting expedition to Shohola Falls, in Pike county, Pa., to-day. The result of the excursion may be seen hanging in front of J. M. Phillips' meat market, on North street, —two very fine specimens of deer, a young buck, which was killed by Mr. Gunther, and a large doe, killed by another of the party.

The hunters are loud in their praises of Mr. and Mrs. Hart. Mr. Hart is the postmaster at Shohola Falls and it was on his land, comprising about 8,000 acres, that the hunt took place.

One incident, however, happened to mar the pleasure of the outing for a short time. The dogs had succeeded in starting a fine large buck and were heading it in Mr. Gunther's direction when a pot-hunter stepped in between and killed the deer and carried away the carcass.

MRS. WARD STILL MISSING.

THE LIVINGSTON MANOR MYSTERY STILL UNSOLVED.

Riley Carl Found by Newspaper Men After an All Night's Search—Ward Believed to Have Made Way With His Wife—His Contractory Stories—Quantities of Strychnine Found in His House.

Little progress has been made toward solving the mystery of the disappearance of Mrs. Lavinia Ward, wife of Milton Ward, of Livingston Manor, the facts concerning which were published in yesterday's ARGUS exclusively.

Ward contradicted himself in many respects each time that he told his story, and his twelve-year-old son, Howard, says that when he returned from school, at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, the house had not been ransacked as his father asserted that it had been.

The warrant on which Ward was arrested, yesterday, was issued by Justice McGrath, on complaint of John Benton, the missing woman's brother, and Joseph Benton, her cousin.

When the searching party visited the Ward house, yesterday, they found that nearly all Mrs. Ward's wearing apparel, both old and new, was missing, but it is not thought she has gone away of her own volition.

Ward, just before his arrest, got out bills offering a reward of $30 for the capture of Riley Carl. Carl is Ward's cousin, and since his release from prison, last spring, has frequently been at Ward's house, but Ward denies that he harbored him.

Ward is a farmer in a small way, and lives in a rather lonely spot, a little out of Livingston Manor village. His father, Milton Ward, lives near by, and so does Fred Benton, Mrs. Ward's father. The Bentons are highly respected, but the Wards do not seem to be held in high esteem.

RILEY CARL FOUND

Special to the DAILY ARGUS.

LIVINGSTON MANOR, Oct. 26—The ARGUS representative, in company with two other wideawake newspaper men spent the night in scouring the mountains in search of Riley Carl We tramped for miles and an hour before daybreak found our man snoring soundly in the bushes, near his sister's shanty.

The finding of Carl under these circumstances completely upsets Ward's theory that Carl had kidnapped Mrs. Ward and was keeping her concealed. He has not yet been arrested, but a warrant may be issued for him on general principles for there is no doubt that he is a bad lot. Some years ago he knocked down and robbed a man named Soules and placed his senseless body on the railroad track, from which it was rescued before it had been run over and mangled by a passing train. He was released from prison, not many months ago. It is said he has not slept in a house for months. He is suspected of many petty thefts.

I had an interview with Ward, this morning. He professes to still believe that Carl is responsible for his wife's disappearance and has either kidnapped and concealed her or murdered her and hidden the body. He cried while he talked with me and said that he would give all that he had to find her.

WILL CONTINUE THE SEARCH.

On the advice of District Attorney Hill, who was here, yesterday, Ward has been released on parole. Nine out of ten people here believe that he has killed his wife, and he is very closely watched. He went, this afternoon, to a place near Hancock where he professed to believe Carl's pals have hidden her. The latest frill that he has added to his story is to express a fear that Carl and his gang are lying in wait to capture his son.

POISON FOUND IN WARD'S HOUSE

The searching party that visited Ward's house, yesterday, found a great quantity of strychnine hidden in a trunk. Ward has given no satisfactory explanation of the presence of the poison in his house.

It was proposed, to-day, to drag Shanley Pond, near Ward's house, for the body of the missing woman, but this has not been done and it looks as if no search would be made to-day.

A CLERICAL INVENTOR.

A Former Middletown Clergyman Interested in a New Electric Railway System.

An exhibition of the new system of electrical propulsion of street railways was given, yesterday, at Danbury, Conn., by Capt. J. M. Murphy, formerly of the New York Fire Department, and Rev. Albert F. Pierce, formerly pastor of the First Congregational Church, of this city, who are the joint inventors.

This system does away with the trolley, either above or below the cars. The feed wire is buried under ground and the car takes the current directly from the rails and only the rails over which the car is passing are charged, the wheels of the car operating a lever at each junction of the rails, which turns on the current into the next section of the track. It is said that by this system a car can be stopped and reversed in half its length.

C. P. Sadlier Wants $10,000 From the Equitable Insurance Company for His Arrest in Newburgh.

It is possible that Mr. Clement P. Sadlier, of Newburgh, who was arrested, this week, on a warrant sworn out by Manager Baldwin, of the Equitable Life Assurance Association, charging larceny in the second degree, may recover substantial damages for his arrest. At least it is his purpose to bring suit against the company for $10,000

If the facts are as they have been stated to us, Mr. Sadlier is certainly not liable to a criminal action.

It is said that when Mr. Sadlier received $169 from Mr. J. H. Horton it was for the premium on a policy of $2,000, but Mr. Horton afterwards changed his mind and concluded to take a policy of only $1,000. When the matter was finally adjusted there was $16 in Mr. Sadlier's hands to be applied on the next payment of premium.

When the time came for this payment, Mr. Sadlier was short of money and suggested to Mr. Horton that he write the company and ask an extension of thirty days. This Mr. Horton did and the extension was granted, but in twenty-five days afterwards Mr. Baldwin caused Mr. Sadlier's arrest.

Mr. Sadlier, we understand, claims that the $84 retained by him from the amount received from Mr. Horton represented his commission, which he had a right to keep, and the $16 had been applied on the next premium and, until the expiration of the thirty days extension granted by the company to Mr. Horton, he was not liable to the company for anything.

This statement of the case does not come from Mr. Sadlier, but from others familiar with all the circumstances, and it is due Mr. Sadlier that his Middletown friends should know the real situation, inasmuch as his arrest has been published in all the papers.

MUCH SMOKE BUT NO FIRE.

Result of Guessing at a Place to Put a Stove Pipe.

Mr. J. H. McCune, yesterday, engaged a tinsmith to put up a stove in the barber shop under the Bell House. The man saw a hole in the wall and supposed it opened in a chimney and put the pipe in it. A fire was started soon afterward and in about five minutes smoke was seen issuing from the cornice and through the siding of the building and it looked for a time as if the whole building was on fire.

Investigation, however, showed that the stove pipe had been placed so that the smoke passed between the walls, instead of in the chimney and was then carried to all parts of the building.

The Tom Thumb Wedding.

The repetition of the Tom Thumb wedding drew a large audience, at the First Presbyterian Church, last evening. The performance was fully as good as at the former entertainment, but the financial results were not as satisfactory. Owing to the cool weather the ice cream tables were not patronized very liberally.

The net proceeds amounted to about $25.

A matinee is being given this afternoon.

GARDNER & McWILLIAMS.

WHEN JENNY RODE TO MILL WITH ME.

When Jenny rode to mill with me,
The daisies lined their bosoms,
The spring winds rumpled every tree
And stirred a storm of blossoms.

The squirrels scampered from the hedge,
The cows were in the clover,
The lilies rimmed the river's edge
And dusky doves flew over.

The white road seemed to welcome us,
By shaken gowns caressed,
The groves with song were tremulous,
By lonely violets accosted.

The mad wind seemed to envy all
The curls below their bonnet,
And let the dew dashed blossoms fall
In twinkling showers on it.

How well the way old Milton knew
In all the springtime weather,
His back was broad enough for two,
And so—we rode together!

He loved Love and the light and song,
He knew the spell that bound me,
And that the way was never long
While Jenny's arms were round me!

The rose had then no cruel thorn
To mar the moment's bliss with,
The miller took his toll in corn,
And I took mine in kisses.

But time has left us far apart,
Yet, through the years so many,
The dear old road runs round the heart
That frames the face of Jenny.

And I would give the world to see
The dark-haired miss and matron
Where Jenny rode to mill with me
Amid a storm of blossoms.

—F. L. Stanton in Chicago Times-Herald.

A CRUEL KINDNESS.

The town had grown up to them and almost crowded itself into their front door, but they still lived on in the same old fashioned methods of the past half century, clinging to the chairs and tables they had when they were married, even retaining the little squeaky piano that had been Ann Maria's before she married a rich foreigner and changed to Anita Marie. The cradle she was rocked in when a baby, manufactured out of a barrel by her adoring father and covered skillfully with rose colored chintz, had been sent up to the attic, for it offended her fine sense of aesthetics when she came home to visit. The rag carpet in the living room was the work of leisure hours and had been in service twenty odd years, and the old man himself used to say lovingly while he regarded it with admiring eyes, "You'll never make another carpet like that, mother!" It was like the last painting of a great artist to him.

And now the old people had taken an outing that was to last a whole week, the result of a conspiracy in which Ann Maria was chief mover, aided and abetted by her sisters, who were married and settled in the same town and whom she was visiting.

While the old couple were gone, the conspirators possessed themselves of the key of the homestead, entered it stealthily and began what they considered a work of reform, which also was expected to be a delightful surprise to those most interested.

"We'll get that dreary old piano out of the way first," said its former owner, who had one now that cost a thousand dollars, "and the old rag carpet—it gives me a chill to see it—and all those dreadful framed photographs and chromos—I have a few oil paintings that I brought down with me on purpose to replace them—and that red tablecloth—Sophie, do you remember when we used to learn our lessons on that flaming thing? It looks as awfully red as ever, doesn't it?"

"Yes," answered Sophie, with a distinct sigh. "I wonder if we are as happy now as we were then, or if our conditions depend so much on surroundings—fine furniture, for instance?"

"Pshaw!" said Ann Maria with emphasis. "We must move with the world or be run over. Here, take those old peacock feathers and stow them away somewhere. I suppose it wouldn't do to burn them? I once thought the eyes in those feathers watched everything I did. We'll leave grandfather's clock because it's genuine and a fad now in the best society, and the older the better."

So they tore up and tore down, and in a few hours a really modern air pervaded every nook and corner. A pretty new carpet—not too gay, but with a pleasing assortment of colors—took the place of the despised rag carpet. New chairs, a handsome rug, an upholstered easy chair for "father" and a modern rocker for "mother" supplanted the long used furniture of the past, and the faded old photographs were removed to make room for smart paintings in consistent style with the new order of things. A white marseilles counterpane replaced the old log cabin quilt, every square of which had been as an open book for "mother" to read. Other innovations were made throughout, and then the conspirators paused to look on their handiwork and take breath.

"That's the first work I've done in 20 years," said Ann Maria, wiping her flushed face with a real lace handkerchief, "that I'd just like to see the dear old couple when they open the door."

"I'm afraid they'll object to having the piano out of sight," said one of the sisters, "but they're sure to like everything else. Mother would never let me touch a chair, even to straighten it out, so I knew the only way was to take her by surprise. Old folks get cranky about things they have had a long time. It isn't good for them to make idols out of old furniture."

"I should say not," added Ann Maria. "Bless us, don't the fashions move as they did 20 years ago. I was really afraid people would think we didn't appreciate our old folks to let them live on among that old rubbish."

The last finishing touches being accomplished, the sisters went to their respective homes and at nightfall the two old folk walked into the domicile that had sheltered them for 40 years—the dearest spot on earth to them—home! [illegible] planned by them knowing [illegible] they were to enter the house of [illegible] intensify the surprise in store for them and enjoy each other's delight over the occasion without witnesses.

But they, not knowing this, felt with the sensitiveness of age a little hurt and clung closer together as they entered the dark and silent dwelling, every step of which was like hallowed ground to their tired feet.

"I most wonder the girls ain't left a light a-burnin for us. First time they forgot," said the old man as he stumbled over a chair.

"You know, father, Ann Maria's visitin them. It makes a difference," said the mother in gentle, apologetic tones, that were her wont when defending "the children."

"Seems right good to be home again. Let's set an rest a spell afore 'we light up,'" suggested the old man, dropping into a handy chair.

But his form had scarcely touched it before he straightened himself out of it and said testily:

"It don't seem nat'ral. It most broke my back to set in that cheer! Mandy, there's something wrong!"

Mandy had been feeling along the shelf for the candle that year in and year out stood there like a tallow sentinel, and had never failed her in the darkest night. She found it, but not in its old place. It had been moved a hair's breadth to the left and felt queer to her touch.

"Gimme a match, Eben. I want to see what like is the can'le. Lord a-mercy, look at it, man!"

It certainly was not the same brand of candle that for all these years had been run in the tin mold behind the pantry door. It was a gorgeous twisted design in green wax with yellow stripes.

"That's the girls' doin's, I bet," said the old man, putting on his glasses to take a better look at the intruder. "Gosh! What a lookin candle!"

As its rays diffused a light through the room the two old people began to investigate. They looked around, then into each other's faces, and both fear and wonderment were expressed in their startled glances.

"Mandy," said the old man at last, "we've gone and got into the wrong house!"

"I b'leeve it," answered Mandy feebly, "but then whereabouts is ours?"

"Let's look at the outside." And the "girls," who were watching at their own windows, saw a glimmering light dancing like an ignis fatuus before the old house and could discern the now wonted spectacle of their father and mother inspecting the outside of their home by candle light. It struck them as very funny.

Meanwhile the truth had revealed itself in part to the old people, and holding aloft the flaring wax candle they took an inventory of the new furniture, from the carpet on the floor to the paintings on the walls. It was well the conspirators were not there to hear them. It might have given them a shock.

"Even the pianny's gone," said Mandy, wringing her hands, "the dear old pianny where Ann Maria learned to play 'Hang Up the Baby's Stockin' afore she was 10 years old! I couldn't have b'leeved it, and my hit and miss carpet that I made with my own hands—and the red tablecloth, the cheerfulest thing'—you could see it for a mile when the door was open and we was light'd up—and my pictures of the children taken every year of their lives—it's worse than robbery. I don't doubt they meant well, but it's broke my heart!"

"I near broke my back tryin to set in one of 'em new fangled cheers," said the old man, spurning the smart chair with his foot. "I do wonder, Mandy, if they left us anything to set on?"

"They've left the clock," said Mandy. "I'm thankful for that! I declare, father, it seems like an old friend," and holding father's hand she stood long before the venerable timepiece, regarding it with loving eyes.

It was near daylight when the two old people had seen the last of their new possessions, and arranged them to their entire satisfaction. The fancy candle had burned down to a mound of green and yellow wax and been replaced by a straight, uncompromising tallow, homemade, that shed a serene light on two old faces that looked very tired, but wore a conscious expression of peace and triumph. And even in their dreams they smiled.

* * * * * *

"To think of it!" said Ann Maria, when she tells the story. "After all our planning and contriving, when we went over the next day to see how they were enjoying their new surroundings, they had put back every article of the old stuff we moved, rag carpet, photographs and all, and packed the new things up in the attic. They wouldn't have a new chair, nor a tablecloth, nor anything. Said the things weren't comfortable. Talk about Ephraim being joined to idols—father and mother could give him pointers out of their experience," and she sighed over the degeneracy of age.—Mrs. M. L. Rayne in Detroit Free Press.

and those soon to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription robs childbirth of its tortures, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding nature in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and the period of confinement are greatly shortened. It also promotes the secretion of an abundance of nourishment for the child.

Mrs. DORA A. GUTHRIE, of Oakley, Overton Co., Tenn., writes: "When I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I was not able to stand on my feet without suffering almost death. Now I do all my housework, washing, cooking, sewing and everything for my family of eight. I am stouter now than I have been in six years. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is the best to take before confinement, or at least it proved so with me. I never suffered so little with any of my children as I did with my last."

HEART DISEASE, like many other ailments when they have taken hold of the system, never gets better of its own accord, but Constantly grows worse. There are thousands who know they have a defective heart, but will not admit the fact. They don't want their friends to worry, and Don't know what to take for it, as they have been told time and again that heart disease was incurable. Such was the case of Mr. Silas Farley of Dyesville, Ohio who writes June 19 1891, as follows:

"I had heart disease for 23 years, my heart hurting me time and continually. The first 15 years I doctored all the time, trying several physicians and remedies, until my last doctor told me it was only a question of time as I would not be cured. I gradually grew worse, very weak, and completely discouraged, until I lived, propped half up in bed, because I couldn't lie down nor sit up. Thinking my time had come I told my family what I wanted done when I was gone. But on the first day of March on the recommendation of Mrs. Fannie Jones of Anderson, Ind., I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart and wonderful to tell, in ten days I was working at light work and on March 19 commenced framing a barn, which is heavy work, and I have'nt lost a day since. I am 58 years old, 6 ft. 4½ inches and weigh 250lbs. I believe I am fully cured, and I am now only anxious that everyone shall know of your wonderful remedies."

"Seems right good to be home again. Let's set an rest a spell afore 'we light up,'" suggested the old man, dropping into a handy chair.

But his form had scarcely touched it before he straightened himself out of it and said testily:

"It don't seem nat'ral. It most broke my back to set in that cheer! Mandy, there's something wrong!"

Mandy had been feeling along the shelf for the candle that year in and year out stood there like a tallow sentinel, and had never failed her in the darkest night. She found it, but not in its old place. It had been moved a hair's breadth to the left and felt queer to her touch.

"Gimme a match, Eben. I want to see what like is the can'le. Lord a-mercy, look at it, man!"

It certainly was not the same brand of candle that for all these years had been run in the tin mold behind the pantry door. It was a gorgeous twisted design in green wax with yellow stripes.

"That's the girls' doin's, I bet," said the old man, putting on his glasses to take a better look at the intruder. "Gosh! What a lookin candle!"

As its rays diffused a light through the room the two old people began to investigate. They looked around, then into each other's faces, and both fear and wonderment were expressed in their startled glances.

"Mandy," said the old man at last, "we've gone and got into the wrong house!"

"I b'leeve it," answered Mandy feebly, "but then whereabouts is ours?"

"Let's look at the outside." And the "girls," who were watching at their own windows, saw a glimmering light dancing like an ignis fatuus before the old house and could discern the now wonted spectacle of their father and mother inspecting the outside of their home by candle light. It struck them as very funny.

Meanwhile the truth had revealed itself in part to the old people, and holding aloft the flaring wax candle they took an inventory of the new furniture, from the carpet on the floor to the paintings on the walls. It was well the conspirators were not there to hear them. It might have given them a shock.

"Even the pianny's gone," said Mandy, wringing her hands, "the dear old pianny where Ann Maria learned to play 'Hang Up the Baby's Stockin' afore she was 10 years old! I couldn't have b'leeved it, and my hit and miss carpet that I made with my own hands—and the red tablecloth, the cheerfulest thing'—you could see it for a mile when the door was open and we was light'd up—and my pictures of the children taken every year of their lives—it's worse than robbery. I don't doubt they meant well, but it's broke my heart!"

"I near broke my back tryin to set in one of 'em new fangled cheers," said the old man, spurning the smart chair with his foot. "I do wonder, Mandy, if they left us anything to set on?"

"They've left the clock," said Mandy. "I'm thankful for that! I declare, father, it seems like an old friend," and holding father's hand she stood long before the venerable timepiece, regarding it with loving eyes.

It was near daylight when the two old people had seen the last of their new possessions, and arranged them to their entire satisfaction. The fancy candle had burned down to a mound of green and yellow wax and been replaced by a straight, uncompromising tallow, homemade, that shed a serene light on two old faces that looked very tired, but wore a conscious expression of peace and triumph. And even in their dreams they smiled.

* * * * * *

"To think of it!" said Ann Maria, when she tells the story. "After all our planning and contriving, when we went over the next day to see how they were enjoying their new surroundings, they had put back every article of the old stuff we moved, rag carpet, photographs and all, and packed the new things up in the attic. They wouldn't have a new chair, nor a tablecloth, nor anything. Said the things weren't comfortable. Talk about Ephraim being joined to idols—father and mother could give him pointers out of their experience," and she sighed over the degeneracy of age.—Mrs. M. L. Rayne in Detroit Free Press.

Why Was It

that Ayer's Sarsaparilla, out of the great number of similar preparations manufactured throughout the world, was the only medicine of the kind admitted at the World's Fair, Chicago? BECAUSE

According to Rule 17—"Articles that are in any way dangerous or offensive, also patent medicines, nostrums, and empirical preparations, whose ingredients are concealed, will not be admitted to the Exposition," and this is—

STRIKING MINERS RESUME.

Central Pennsylvania Workers Generally Obey the Strike Leader's Orders.

PHILLIPSBURG, Pa., Oct. 26.—The resumption ordered by William B Wilson had the effect of starting up nearly all the mines that are idle, except in cases where the order did not reach the men in time. In the Cambria county district all the mines thus far heard from resumed operations. In the Beech Creek region considerable agitation was caused among the miners because thirty-seven B. R. and P. cars were sent into the region. The B. R. and P. miners have been on strike for seven weeks past, and the miners feared that the operators here were filling the above company's orders. Railroad officials and operators claim that cars are scarce, and they are glad to get any kind. Several operators, fearing a strike at their mines should more cars of the same kind be run in, have ordered the railroad company not to send them.

American Protection in Turkey.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A cablegram from Minister A. W. Terrell, at Constantinople, denies the published statements that he has neglected missionary interests. The minister asserts that no one American missionary in Asia Minor has been injured during the strife. "I have," says Minister Terrell, "for months kept a Turkish guard to protect American professors in a missionary college against threatened assassination by emissaries of secret societies. I have never failed to rescue from [illegible] every American arrested who be[illegible] American passport."

New York's Anti-Race Track War.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—According to the Evening World August Belmont, chairman of the state racing commission and chairman of the board of stewards of the Westchester Racing association, declares that Peter Delacey, the moving spirit of the anti-race track crusade, has offered to drop the fight if the jockey club would pay him $200,000. Delacey is a pool room keeper whose business has been injured by the new racing law. The race track war is waging very vigorously, and both parties declare themselves in earnest. Samuel B. Lawrence, president of the Westchester Racing association, was arrested on a warrant secured by the anti-gambling league. He was paroled until next Monday.

The Harvard Crew Defeated.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 26.—The Harvard varsity eight were beaten out by the crack Boston Athletic association crew in an exciting two mile race on the Charles yesterday afternoon. On the last half the Harvard men made a brilliant spurt, hitting up the stroke from thirty-six to forty, and all but overhauled their opponents. Harvard's stroke, though the crew was practically the same that rowed against Yale last June, was very heavy at the catch with little length or drive.

For the World's Cycling Championship.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—A challenge has been cabled to J. Michael, the Welsh champion bicyclist, by Dixie Hines, president of the Quill Club Wheelmen of America, in behalf of John S. Johnson. It is for three match races for $1,000 a side and the professional championship of the world, the contest to come off early in the season at some of the big tracks in this country. The distance will be one, five and ten miles, with pacemakers.

May Fight at El Paso.

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 26.—J. J. Taylor, chairman of the El Paso committee, Dan Stuart, that El Paso would put up one-half of the $10,000 for the prize fight, and that Corbett and Fitzsimmons could fight here without interference. Stuart replied that he was at work trying to secure the use of a lot for a fight at El Paso. Corbett replied that he had no objection to fight in El Paso [illegible] thousand.

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MIDDLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

Tuesday, October 29th,

If you are incurable they will tell you; therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor cannot give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief.

The doctors visits Middletown one day each month. Will be at 21 Broom street, Port Jervis, Wednesday Oct. 30th. Office hours from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

A DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Charles Decker Terribly Injured by the Unexpected Discharge of a Blast.

From the Port Jervis Gazette.

Charles Decker, the foreman in the stone quarries of Terbell & Ridgeway, at Oakland, on the line of the Monticello Railroad, received injuries on Thursday, from a dynamit explosion, which may result in his death.

He was engaged in blasting a large rock which was estimated to weigh about two tons. He had filled an eight-inch hole with half a cartridge of the powerful explosive and touched it off.

The dynamite missed fire and Decker was engaged in digging out the charge, when the explosion took place. He was directly over the charge and was blown in the air twenty feet or more. When picked up he was in a frightful condition and unrecognizable.

His face was lacerated in a frightful manner and his clothes were tattered and almost torn from his body. The flesh was torn from both arms from the elbow to the wrist, one wrist was broken and two of the fingers were torn from the right hand.

It is believed that Decker will lose the sight of both eyes, if he should recover. Dr. Writer, of Otisville, is in attendance and has slight hopes for the recovery of Mr. Decker.

The French say "it is the impossible that happens." This has proved to be the case with the Mount Lebanon Shakers. The whole scientific world has been laboring to cure dyspepsia, but every effort seemed to meet with defeat The suffering from stomach troubles has become almost universal. Multitudes have no desire for food and that which they do eat causes them pain and distress. Sleepless nights are the rule and not the exception, and thousands of sufferers have become discouraged.

The Shakers of Mount Lebanon recently came to the front with their new Digestive Cordial, which contains not only a food already digested, but is a digester of food.

It promptly relieves nearly all forms of indigestion. Ask your druggist for one of their books.

Reception and Dance of the Ladies Auxiliary of Thrall Hospital.

The reception and dance given at the Assembly Rooms, last night, for the benefit of Thrall Hospital, by the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of the hospital, was very largely attended, and was not only a great social success, but also resulted in adding a neat sum to the treasury of the auxiliary. Among those present were many of the out of town guests who attended the Hardenburgh-Bull wedding, and who remained over on account of the dance. Excellent music was furnished by Roescher. Card playing was indulged in by those who did not care to dance, and refreshments were served by the auxiliary.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with palms and Japanese umbrellas, loaned by the tea store. The colors of the hospital, yellow and white, predominated in the decorations.

AN EXPERIMENT IN COOPERATION

The Honesdale Glass Factory Leased by a Company of Glass Blowers

Eighteen glass blowers, most of them from Scranton, have leased the Honesdale glass factory and will operate it on the cooperative plan. They are to pay $100 a year rental for the factory and tenement houses, and at the end of the year are to pay $10,000 for the property. They have raised $5,000 among themselves and have borrowed $5,000. They are to pay $4,000 for the personal property in the factory and this will leave them a working capital of $6,000 which, with quick sales, they think will be sufficient, especially since each man is to leave half the wages which he earns in the company's treasury. The new company starts with the good wishes of every one in Honesdale.

A HORSE BLANKET CASE.

Dr. Hulett Lost It, Mr. McDowell Bought It and Joe Carroll Says He Found It.

About a week ago, Dr. Hulett missed one of a pair of heavy horse blankets which his driver had hung on the fence in the yard to dry. The police were notified and a close watch was kept for the blanket, which was of peculiar pattern and which had been trimmed with leather straps and bindings to make it fit close to the horse.

The blanket was seen on a horse tied on Orchard street, last evening, and the owner, Mr. H. C. McDowell, said that he had purchased it from Joseph Carroll, a Casino bill poster, paying him a dollar and a half for it. Carroll was arrested and claimed that he had found the lanket near the foot of Orchard street. Manager Corey, of the Casino, became responsible for Carroll's appearance, this morning, but at 9 o'clock, the time appointed for the hearing, Carroll failed to put in an appearance. The blanket was returned to Dr. Hulett.

At 10 o'clock, however, Carroll came into court, but as no one appeared to press a charge of larceny, he was discharged. He insisted that he had found the blanket.

IN A RECEIVER'S HANDS.

Sheriff Beakes' Interest in the Failure of a New York Shoe House.

James Chambers, limited corporation, wholesale dealer in boots, shoes and slippers at No. 196 Church street, New York, went into the hands of a receiver, yesterday, with liabilities amounting to $510,927, and assets $423,824

This is the firm which held the executions under which Sheriff Beake's sold out the stock of John Bradley's shoe store. The stock was claimed by Mr. Patrick Dougherty under a bill of sale to secure endorsements on notes, but the Chambers Company gave a bond of indemnity to Sheriff Beakes and the sale went on It is probable, therefore, that Sheriff Beakes had a bad quarter of an hour, to-day, when he learned of the New York concern's financial troubles

—The mill here is overrun with work, farmers coming all the way from Dwaarskill, the mills in the lower neighborhood not being able to run for the want of water.

—Our miller is shipping buckwheat flour to Newburgh.

—There will be a new blacksmith here on Monday morning next. He will do work at a reduced price for thirty days to recover lost trade. He will shoe for ninety cents to advertise.

—Burglars tried to enter the house of F. Little, one night last week.

—In spite of the low water our mill runs most every day.

NEW TO-DAY.

A CARD.

With excellent facilities for handling Groceries in large quantities, my friends are asking me why I do not wish to wholesale to dealers who buy in smaller quantities. The reason is this:—"No man can successfully ride two horses at once." Should I try to wholesale, fairness to the merchants to whom I sold would compel me to keep up my retail prices to protect them but buying in large lots and avoiding the middle man I can and do divide the extra profit with the consumer, hence I solicit only the retail trade.
